

Rutuja Charitable Trust

Dedicated to Women Welfare | Educate | Enlighten | Empower

Reg. No. E/8980/Surat | 80G & 12A Certified | CSR-1 Registered | NITI Aayog DARPAN NGO | Mumbai Public Trust Act 1950

RUTUJA DIGNITY DOLL — A Simple Tool. A Powerful Shift.

ABOUT RUTUJA CHARITABLE TRUST

Founded in 2020 by Dr. Nehal Shah, Rutuja Charitable Trust is dedicated to bringing subtle transformations to the lives of women who lack self-love and self-respect. Dr. Nehal strongly believes that all problems are psycho-somatic and root causes lie in the MIND — and that when spirituality and science go together, a person can dissolve different knots, making life livable and creating influential change in society.

Our Vision

Bring subtle, lasting transformation to women through the union of science, psychology, biology, and spirituality.

Our Mission

Provide support, tools & education to women so they gain wisdom for internal transformation, wellbeing, and self-reliance.

Our USP

We focus on quality over quantity and long-term impact over temporary solutions — blending science with spirituality.

International Collaborations & Recognition

- ✓ Official Partner — Menstrual Hygiene Day (global)
- ✓ Coalition Member — Global South Coalition for Dignified Menstruation (GSCDM), Nepal
- ✓ Partner — Maasika Mahotsav (Period Festival), Muse Foundation, Mumbai
- ✓ License Holder — International Peace Education Program (82 countries, 42 languages)
- ✓ Coalition Member — Global Campaign for PEACEducation
- ✓ MoU — Voice that Care for Mental Health & Psychological First Aid Helpline

WHO IS RUTUJA?

Rutuja is a soft, handmade doll representing an adolescent girl experiencing her first period for the very first time. Like millions of girls across India, she felt scared, confused, and alone — because nobody told her this was coming. No mother explained it. No teacher spoke about it. Just silence. The Rutuja Dignity Doll was created so that no girl ever has to feel that way again.

She wears a sacred red scarf inscribed with “Sacred & Sanmanit” — a reminder that periods are not dirty but pure, respectful, and natural. Her block-printed Indian dress is a tribute to Indian culture. Her delicate, happy face replaces fear with joy. The Dignity Doll is a Design Patent registered concept — proudly made in India.

WHAT SHE REPRESENTS

- Conversation starter — Opens dialogue about periods in homes, schools & communities
- Emotional bridge — Helps girls & women express feelings comfortably & safely
- Mascot for period positivity — Normalises menstruation without shame or fear
- Behavioural change tool — Shifts generational beliefs about menstruation
- Livelihood creator — Every doll crafted by tribal women artisans of Gujarat

HOW IS SHE USED?

Module 1 — Adolescent Girls (5th–9th std)

Girls talk to Rutuja, ask questions through her, and explore menstruation in a safe space.

Module 2 — Adult Women & Communities

Opens discussions about myths, beliefs, and generational change in group settings.

Module 3 — Self-Reflection & Healing

A gentle introspection tool for women to reconnect with their story and release shame.

WHO CAN USE THE DIGNITY DOLL?

Schools & Colleges

Teachers & counsellors can use the doll in classroom sessions for girls from 5th to 12th standard to break the ice and open dialogue about menstruation.

Government Programs

Can be integrated into ASHA-led programs, Kishori Shakti Yojana, Swachh Bharat Mission, and state health & education initiatives.

NGOs & Healthcare Workers

Community health workers, ASHA workers, nurses, doctors, and NGO facilitators can integrate the doll into outreach programs and health camps.

Corporate CSR Partners

Companies with CSR mandates in women's health, education, or rural development can sponsor distribution of dolls at scale.

Families & Parents

Parents can use the doll at home to start conversations with daughters about their first period — replacing awkwardness with openness and warmth.

Women's Self-Help Groups

SHG facilitators can use the doll in group meetings to enable peer learning and open up community conversations across generations.

SUPPORT THE CAUSE — Give a Doll. Change a Life.

Donate to the Cause

- ✓ Donate a doll directly for distribution to underprivileged girls
- ✓ Sponsor a school session or community awareness program
- ✓ Fund production of dolls for tribal & rural communities
- ✓ CSR contributions eligible for 80G tax exemption
- ✓ All donations go directly toward craft livelihoods & awareness programs

Dolls for Underprivileged Girls

- ✓ Every doll purchased contributes to distribution for girls who cannot afford one
- ✓ Free doll distribution in government schools, tribal areas & rural communities
- ✓ Paired with structured awareness sessions led by trained facilitators
- ✓ Ensuring no girl faces her first period alone — regardless of her background
- ✓ A registered CSR-1 initiative eligible for corporate giving

DUAL SOCIAL IMPACT — Every Doll Sold Creates Change Twice Over

- ✓ Girls & women gain confidence to talk about periods openly
- ✓ Adolescent girls receive period preparedness before their first experience
- ✓ Tribal women artisans earn dignified, sustainable livelihoods
- ✓ Underprivileged girls receive free dolls via outreach programs
- ✓ Proceeds directly fund Rutuja Charitable Trust's women welfare mission
- ✓ Design Patent registered concept — proudly made in India

Normalize Periods. Dignify Every Girl. Empower Every Woman.

www.rutuja.org | rutujawomen@gmail.com | rutujatrust@gmail.com | +91 9664672641 | Instagram: rutuja_women
203, Indradhanush Apt., City Light Road, Surat – 395007, Gujarat | For collaborations, donations, CSR & sponsorships